Description

Wisconsin Ninety-Nines, an international organization of licensed women pilots, is offering a day of aviation exploration with women from various parts of aviation. Girl Scouts will earn the Aviation badge while attending a pilot panel, instrumentation, preflighting an aircraft, rockets, tower communications, sectional chart symbology, and exploring hot air balloons (subjects may change). UPS Boeing 747 First Officer Tina Hartlaub, and STEM educator, commercial pilot, and ground instructor Laurie Probst are coordinating this event with many women pilots presenters.
